Petitioner.)	DECISION
_____)

On June 3, 2015, the Idaho State Tax Commission (Commission) issued a Notice of Deficiency Determination (NODD) to Redacted (taxpayer) denying the additional dependency exemption deduction and grocery credit claimed for taxable year 2010.

The sole issue for this decision is whether the taxpayer is entitled to a dependency exemption deduction for Redacted. In support of Redacted claim, the taxpayer provided a copy of the Redacted. A letter was sent to the taxpayer outlining Redacted alternatives for redetermining a protested NODD. Redacted responded via email and asked for clarification but did not request a hearing. The Commission, having reviewed the file, hereby issues its decision.

Taxpayers may claim dependency exemption deductions for their dependents as defined in Redacted (IRC) § 152. Under IRC § 152(a), the term “dependent” means a qualifying child or qualifying relative. A qualifying child is defined as an individual who (1) bears a certain relationship to the taxpayer, such as the taxpayer’s child, (2) has the same principal place of abode as the taxpayer for more than one-half of the taxable year, (3) meets certain age requirements, and (4) has not provided over one-half of the individual’s own support for the taxable year. IRC § 152(c)(1)-(3).

However, the dependency exemption, as a general rule, is limited under IRC § 152(e)(1) as follows: if the child received over one-half of Redacted parents who live apart at all times during the last 6 months of the calendar year and the child is in the custody of one or both parents for more than one-half of the calendar year, then the child is treated as the qualifying child of the noncustodial parent if certain requirements are met. The requirements are met if (1) the custodial parent signs a written declaration (in such manner and form as the Secretary may prescribe) that the custodial parent will not claim the child as a dependent for the taxable year; and (2) the noncustodial parent attaches the written declaration to the noncustodial parent's return for the taxable year. IRC § 152(e)(2).

The term "custodial parent" is defined in IRC § 152(e)(4)(A) as the parent having custody for the greater portion of the calendar year. In response to a request for information, the taxpayer stated Redacted.

An exception to the above rule is provided in IRC section 152(e)(2) in that if the parent having custody elects to release Redacted claim to exemption for the children in Redacted custody for the year in question and supplies a written release to that effect, and if the noncustodial parent receiving the right to claim the dependency exemption attaches such waiver to the tax return, then the waiver will be honored and the noncustodial parent may claim the dependency exemption for the Redacted.

The order states that the taxpayer is entitled to the dependency exemption for Redacted. However, the mere fact that the State court granted the taxpayer the right to claim the dependency exemption deduction is immaterial because a state court cannot determine issues of Redacted. Id. See Commissioner v. Tower, 327 U.S. 280 (1946); Kenfield v. United States, 783 F.2d 966 (10th Cir.1986); Nieto v. Commissioner, T.C. Memo.1992-296. The taxpayer's remedy, if any, lies in the State court for enforcement of the Order.

The taxpayer has not shown he is the custodial parent and does not have a signed release from the custodial parent. Therefore, the taxpayer is not entitled to the dependency exemption. And, since the taxpayer is not entitled to the dependency exemption, he cannot claim the additional grocery credit for the child per Idaho Code § 63-3024A.

THEREFORE, the Notice of Deficiency Determination dated June 3, 2015, and directed to Redacted is APPROVED, AFFIRMED, and MADE FINAL.

IT IS ORDERED and THIS DOES ORDER that the taxpayer pay the following tax and interest:

YEAR	TAX	PENALTY	INTEREST	TOTAL
2010	$262	$66	$50	$378

Interest is computed through March 1, 2016.

DEMAND for immediate payment of the foregoing amount is hereby made and given.

An explanation of the taxpayer's right to appeal this decision is enclosed.
